Hamilton Bradley Center

Summer is a special time at Hamilton Bradley Center. The same fitness facilities that are usually filled with retirees and stay-at-home moms during daytime hours are suddenly bustling with active kids.

The Hamilton Bradley Center for Wellness is dedicated to delivering quality children's programming and the professional staff and fully equipped facility create the ideal environment for children. Sports-centered programs include Pee Wee Tennis, Kid Tennis, Cheerleading Camp and Sports Camp. Children in these classes will learn the basics of the sport/activity and practice drills and games to improve skills.

At Hamilton Bradley Center, we know that there is nothing that parents value more than the health and well-being of their children. For this reason, BWC is devoted to teaching kids the importance of physical activity, good nutrition, and smart lifestyle choices.

Wellness instructors are committed to empowering children with knowledge and encouragement. We believe that healthy behaviors should be promoted early so that they may be practiced for life. HBC children's programs are focused on movement, education, and fun! You do not have to be a member of the Hamilton Bradley Center to participate in our programs.

Programs such as Camp FitKids, Fun 2 B Fit, and Kid's Day focus on combining fun and wellness to shed a positive light on fitness and nutrition. During Kid's Day children have the opportunity to learn about nutrition & exercise, swim, play games, and eat pizza!

Our tennis pros have several years of experience and will be teaching our youth tennis clinics. Keyla Manning, former UGA cheerleader, will be instructing our high-energy cheerleading camp. Camp Fitkids, Fun 2 B Fit, and Kid's Day will include guest appearances by our registered dietitian, fitness experts, and others.

Get your kids up and moving this summer by enrolling them in camps that are physical and educational. The information and experiences they will gain are valuable and beneficial.

For more information on any program seen here; please call HBC at (706) 278-9355.

The Creative Arts Guild

The Creative Arts Guild and its "What's a Kid to Do" partners are committed to whole child development as we aspire to continue the momentum of learning through the summer months. Back-to-school is here before we know it and we urge you to assist us in keeping the spirit of learning alive in our children.

We know through measurable results that creative camps, classes and workshops do more than keep a child busy. They keep them engaged. They help to build personal competencies like self-respect, leadership, self-identity and self-worth, all the qualities we value in a person and the qualities we nurture in our children.

We hope as you read through these pages you will find the perfect fit for your child as you ponder the question "What's my kid to do?" over the summer months. Join us as we continue to nurture the creative spirit and the health and well being of our children!

JULY 2006

AUGUST 2006

Dalton State College

It is our pleasure and privilege to participate in the second edition of What's a Kid to Do? A Community Guide to Summer Activities for Children which we think is a great resource of quality summer programming for children in our community.

Last year, Hamilton Bradley Center, the Creative Arts Guild and Dalton State College nervously pooled financial and creative resources to produce What's a Kid to Do?, not sure if the community would respond to a single publication for children's summer programming. We knew it could be a big flop. But respond, you did! You told us in a big way that you liked the efficiency of "one stop shopping" and that our gatefold calendar was a handy tool for summer planning. Mostly though, you told us that you liked seeing the collaboration rather than competition among community organizations that planned summer programs for children. Whew! We thought it was a good idea, but you validated it with your record-breaking enrollments and mostly through your positive comments and your endless queries this year of "When is What's a Kid to Do? coming out this spring? Well, here it is – bigger and better than before! We're proud to welcome new community partners: the Dalton Parks and Recreation Department and its vast array of recreational programming, and also 26 area churches with their exciting lineup of Vacation Bible Schools.

At Dalton State, we have more exciting programs than ever to offer; some may even be offered in our beautiful new James E. Brown Center! And registration for all Dalton State programs is easier than ever with our new online registration system. Just visit www.daltonstate.edu/cce. All summer programs are listed under "Kids College." Just find your program, read all about it and register online, any time of the day or night. We hope that among these pages you will find plenty for a kid to do – there's no excuse for boredom in greater Dalton this summer!
